BIG BENCH SHOW; BEST BOW-WOWS

State Fair This Year Will Award Prizes to Every Breed.

MEANS MANY MORE ENTRIES

Oct. 7, Salt Lake Day, Will be Made Notable by Automobile Races, Special Cup Contributed.

Two anouncements made last evening by President J. G. McDonald of the Utah State Fair association are full of interest to sportsmen. Lovers of horses have been told about the unusual programs and generous purses; now it is the dog-lovers who are being told good news. According to Mr. McDonald, Secy. Hansing of the canine department, and other officials, this year's bench show will be the greatest, both in number or entries and the quality of animals. Dog-dom's aristocracy will have its best in all varieties.

Two entries already received are those from Prof. E. C. Linderman of the School of Mines at Boulder, Colo., who has entered three imported Daschunds and another from A. Battison of Bingham, who shows a snowwhite Esquimau dog.

The second announcement was that Oct. 7. Salt Lake day, will see a big automobile race run off in the forenoon under the auspices of the Salt Lake Automobile club. The fair management is going to put up a silver loving cup as a special prize.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Philadelphia's hard hitting today, was more than offset by their bad fielding, and Pittsburg won, 6 to 5. Corridon outpitched Maddox by a bigger margin than the score shows, four of the visitors' hits being of the scratch variety and being bunched with battery and fielding misplays of the home team. In the sixth Pittsburg scored two runs without making a hit, Philadelphia being charged with four errors. The home team made a bid for victory in the ninth, Courtney led off with a two-bagger and two outs followed. Grant scored Courtney with a single and Knabe's double brought Grant home. Clarke ended the game by pulling down Titus' drive to left centerfield. Wagner stole four bases, his work in this respect being a feature of the game and greatly aiding his team in winning.

This Time the Bogus Athlete Was Ralph Rose and He Struck Denver

Just a few days ago Salt Lake was fooled by a man posing as Papke. Denver has had a dose of the bogus athlete, but the many who wined and dined in Denver represented himself as Ralph Rose, the shot-putter of Olymple fame. The story is told by C. E. Van Loan in the Post in the following style:

Last week the members of the Denver Athletic club entertained in honor of the Oregon boys whe won the gold medals and undying fame at the Olymple games in London. Among other things the local folks tendered a banquet to the victors. The banquet was very swell, very select and choice viands.

Among the guests of the club on this ocasion was a tall, thick gentleman from southern California, who happened to be in Denver on a flying visit. At first the club people took him for Jim Jeffries, when they saw him in the swimming pool they took him for Esau's only descendant. All he needed was "Welcome" worked across his chest and he would have been ready to understudy a door mat. The Californian was about the biggest man who ever drifted into the Denver Athletic club—big all around.

Six feet three in his stockings, three feat nine inches through the chest and wide in proportion, he blocked the doorways and jammed the halls when he moved about.

He met many good fellows at the club "THAT fellow?" said the newcomers. "Nay! I'll bet there ain't an "Ralph Rose, the shot putter!" Was a great deal of him. Young men with narrow chests and sloping snoulders being don't have begged for the privilege of feeling his swelling muscles and thumping his swelling muscles and thumping his swelling muscles and thumping his chest, while modest folk craved no more distinction than may be gained by purchasing a drink for the truly great.

"To about 20 minutes Mr. "Ralph Rose," the phenomenal Californian was about the big-get and undying fame at the Olympic winner, the was of the District on the District on the privilege of feeling his swelling muscles and thumping his swelling muscles and thumping his swelling muscles and thumping his welling muscles Rose, the shot-putter of Olympic fame. He met many good fellows at the club and often found his way into the stein room. The liquor was mild, but there was a great deal of it, and after it had been thoroughly mixed with pate de foic gras, stuffed squab, chicken, tenderloin steak and a few other light trifies, the gigantic Californian began to feel a warm glow stealing through the caverns of his frame.

gigantic Californian began to feel a warm glow stealing through the caverns of his frame.

After the banquet he carried away three or four of the leading lights and they settled down at Mr. Brown's Palace hotel, where they had a nightcap or two and then the Denverites, following the usual custom of all Denver people, excused themselves and went home.

The big Californian was left alone in the barroom at the Brown. He sorrowed over the departure of those who had so royalley entertained him, and his grief threatening to overcome him, he took about 19 ginger ale highbalis to brace his spirits. Then he took 13 more to keep the 19 company, and somewhat organized by this flood of good cheer, he wandered downtown in the direction of the brightest lights.

On the way down Seventeenth street he pondered deeply on the reception to the Olympic heroes. He had, in his time, been something of an Olympic hero himself, but that was about 10 years ago. He had held the plano-moving championship for seven years on the Pacific coast and naturally considered himself quite an athlete. How could he get in on this celebration in honor of the victors?

A bright thought entered his head just as he entered the Albany. The orchestra was playing, the electric lights were all turned on full force and the tables in worshipers, "The big guy with the pug nose."

"THAT fellow?" said the newcomers. "Nix! I'll bet there ain't an "R" in his name!"
One of the doubting ones gained the private ear of the giant.
"You're all right." said he, "whoever you are, but we happen to KNOW Rose. Went to school with him, and—"
"You doubt my word?" flared the big-fellow. "Want to see my medals?"
There was some argument, and in the end the pseudo Rose climbed to his feet and announced that he would give a demonstration of his shot putting ability. He forged into the street and the crowd followed him.
There being no hammer or shot handy.

followed him.

There being no hammer or shot handy, the young giant decided that he would throw a horse across the street, and began by trying to pull one loose from a cab.

"Ha-a-ay!" remonstrated the cabby, coming on the run, "what are you trying to do with that horse?"

"Goin' to throw him across the street!" said the Californian. "I'm Ralph Rose, the shot putter—world's champion! Want to see my medals?"

"Ralph Rose, hey?" said the cab driver, sarcastically, "Ralph Rose, are you's BING!"

Nobody knows just how it happened, but the five-foot cabby was seen to leap into the air and at the same time his right fist shot out. There was a click like the sound when pool balls meet and Ralph Rose landed out between the car tracks—a fallen idol, but when he came to he did not offer to show his medals.

There is no moral to this tale, and you are not obliged to believe more than two-thirds of it. That is your own business.

Salt Lake High School Meets Spokane And Northwest Championship May Come to This City.

elevens play football at Spokane Thanksgiving day. Unusual interest is being taken in this game as Spokane is regarded by many as champion of the northwest. Should Salt Lake win, this city would get the title and in being cilty would get the title and in being called upon to defend it would meet many of the northwestern high schools. But to attain this standing the local boys must win the games scheduled prior to the Spokane trip so they can go up into the northwest as Utah's "champs." Ogden is wide awake and L. H. Masters, athletic instructor, is wearing a satisfied smile. Try-outs commenced on the Ogden High school campus yesterday afternoon and will be held every afternoon until material has been lined up. Some of the boys who are in training are: Lewis, Pugh, Carlson, Lindsay, Herrick, Bohn, Johnson, Tribe, Campbell, Murphy, Douglass and Harm Peery.

Boston, Sept. 15.—Chicago's pennant aspirations met with a serback today at the hands of the Boston players, who won by 3 to 2. Lindaman opposed Brown in the box and the Boston man outpitched his rival and would have scored a shut-out but for an error by Sweeney in the third. MURRAY AND WHITE WINGS. MURRAY AND WHITE WINGS.

Because the Murray team has defeated the White Wings several times the Smcl-termen have become "chesty," to use a pirase of the diamond. After considerable talk about future cuts of gate receipts, Murray wanting the biggest share, win or lose, the White Wings made this proposition: "We will play you, winne: take all and for a $100 a team side bet." The challenge was accepted and the battle royal begins in Murray Saturday afternoon. The following day sees the activity shifted to Walker's field. The boys are playing on their own hook now and both teams are determined to pull down the money. Brooklyn, Sept. 15.—Superb pitching by Spade and Ewing shut out the home club this afternoon at Washington park. Cincinnati winning by a score of 2 to 0.

BATTLER, AN "ACTAH."

Battling Nelson is on the stage and will make a tour of this country. Press reports have him making a great hit. England wants to see the Battler and may get an opportunity as the little Dane wants to travel before listening to figth talk.

CROWDS WERE SMALL.

L. M. Miller of Murray, who attended the Olympic games, has returned from his trip abroad. Mr. Miller says the thing which struck him as peculiar, was the small crowds, present. They could have ben accomomdated in any one of Utah's bicycle arenas, he explains.

MEDALS HAVE ARRIVED.

Swimmers who won places in the Y. M. C. A. aquatic sports held at Lagoon, Aug. 29, will be presented with medals Monday evening. The medals have been received and will be pinned on the boys during the program marking the commencement of the winter gymnasium course.

SAN FRANCISCO FIGHT GOSSOP STEAMING WELL

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—All the sports here are much interested in the coming fight betwen Papke and Ketchel, because it is recognised that it will be the first hattle seen here in years. Ketchel is said by the his manager. Joe O'Connor, to be brooding over his defeat in Los langeles, which he attributes wholly to carelessness. Stanley will not admit he was outfought by Papke, but says that a lucky fluke punch which closed one of his eyes gave Papke the victory on Labor day.

O'Connor says he will send Ketchel into the mountains to build up his strength and then he declares there will be another story. He is confident Stanley will win again and so are many of the local fans who have backed Ketchel from the start of his career.

In the meanwhile Papke is making friends and incidentally showing he is wiser than Ketchel, as his head isn't swelled by his sudden leap into the middleweight championship. He is absolutely sure he car whip Ketchel, so when they clash the fans will certainly get a run for their money.

The moving victures of the Attell-Moran fight prove more interesting than e fight itself. Attell, after watching the picture's said:

"After seeing those pictures, how can any one say Moran was the aggressor and that I wasn't entitled to the decision?" Vancouver, Sept. 15.--Vancouver had an easy win over Spokane today, scoring six in the first inning, seven in the sixth and one in the eighth. "But you didn't do any leading," was the reply. "On every occasion you let Moran lead and contented yourself with Moran lead and contented yourself with countering."

Then Attell came back with the cocaine story and with the claim Moran held on. The sporting public here, however, is sore on Attell, and he couldn't get amother fight with Moran unless it was a finish. In fact, the sports are saying Attell should be forced to accept the Britisher's defi and give him a return fight for 45 rounds, when Abe would have to fight or be licked.

Attell laughs when he is told of these remarks, but he is beginning to appreciate how much he has lost in prestige, and this may force him to give Moran another chance.

RED TAPE EXPLAINED.

Four Months' Residence Demanded Before Participation in Meetings.

New York, Sept. 16.—According to the registration committee of the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union no athlete, whether he is prominently identified with a sport or a novice, can compete at a champion-ship meeting, particularly until he is duly entiled to participate. This action was brought about at a meeting of the committee when the cases of three prominent Olympic athletes, J. C. Rector, the University of Virginia syrinter. 1 B. Taylor, the former University of Freddie Welsh, the new arrangements having been made by the promoter of Before Participation in Meetings.

Mount Pleasant, the broad jumper of the Carlisle Indian school, were ciscussed at the instance of the championship committee because there was a question as to their proper residence in Metropolitan district.

According to a letter to a member of the committee. Rector acknowledge a residence in Arkansas last june and therefore had not acquired a four months' residence to compete at a championship meeting in the district. His registration card was ordered to appear at the meeting but Indied to report Three more days were allotted to him to show why his registration card should not be withdrawn owing to non-residence in the district. In the case of Mount Pleasant the committee was apprised that he never was registered with the Metropolitan association and therefore the committee had no jurisdiction over him.

FOOTBALL SENSATION JOINS COLORADO TEAM

Chicago. Sept. 14.—Clarence Geiner, former North Division High school quarterback, as a freshman at the University of Illinols, gave promise of being a factor in "Big Eight" football, caused a mild sensation in college football creles when he left the state institution and enrolled in the Colorado Aggies last week. It was known that Greiner was not likely to return to Illinols this year, but it was thought that he would enter Chicago or some other "Dig eight" college, and the news that he had gone west was received with much regret.

WELSH WORKS SHIFT ON FRANK CARSEY

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 15.—Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, knocked out Frank Carsey of Chicago in the fourth round before the Pacific Athletic club here tonight. Carsey was fighting strong when the clever Englishman worked his famous shift and sent a crushing right to the Jaw that dropped Carsey like a log. Carsey was out for two minutes and was unable to move for 39 seconds.

SPECTACULAR RACE SEEN IN SYRACUSE

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 15.—With a notable field of II horses, including Geers' Seasle, Spanish Queen, Acquin and Dewitt, it took five heats and some sensational racing to decide the big race on today's card at the state fair grounds, the Empire State stake of $10,000, for 2:14 trotters. Acquin took the first heat after a hot finish with Dewitt. In the next heat Acquin was riever headed, but in the third was challenged at the half by Spanish Queen, the latter winning in a magnificent drive. AMATEUR GOLFERS

AFTER GREAT TITLE Garden City. L. I., Sept. 15.—Save for a strong breeze which somewhat interfered with the accuracy of long drives, conditions were well-nigh perfect when play was resumed today in the national amateur golf championship on the Garden City links.
